

SEN. LA FOLLETTE COMES OUT FLAT-FOOTED FOR RE-ELECTION OF MCGOVERN

HAS DONE GOOD WORK FOR CAUSE OF PLAIN PEOPLE

Senator in Dane County Address Utters Dramatic Appeal for Re-election of McGovern

IGNORE CHICAGO INCIDENT

La Follette Declares It Was Wrong that Did Not Involve His Duties as Governor

FAILS TO MENTION "T. R."

Progressive Leader Confines Himself to Discussion of Wisconsin State Issues

"Blind indeed is the man who in this critical hour would endanger all that it has taken years of struggle and sacrifice to secure for the poor satisfaction for making McGovern suffer. Not for a wrongful act which he has committed as governor, but because he failed in the performance of another duty in which his obligation as chief executive of the state of Wisconsin was in no way involved. I appeal to every progressive voter in the state to support McGovern, because his election at this time is vital to the progressive cause in this state."—Senator Robert M. La Follette.

MADISON, Wis., Oct. 21.—Senator La Follette today asked for the re-election of Governor McGovern in addresses which he made on an automobile speaking tour of Dane county. He opened his tour at Middleton this morning.

Prefacing his remarks with a statement that McGovern's administration as governor had been honest, the senator launched into a complete discussion of platform pledges made two years ago, everyone of which had been redeemed.

"But many of the ardent progressive voters have openly announced their purpose to oppose the re-election of Francis E. McGovern for a second term," said the senator. "It is not charged against him in any way that he has been derelict in the performance of his duty. The sole cause of this opposition is that McGovern has been unfaithful to the candidacy which he was elected to support when commissioned by the people of Wisconsin as a delegate at large to the republican national convention, as shown by his allying himself with the forces of an opposing candidate, in proceedings essential to the organization and control of the convention."

After reviewing the details of the Chicago convention the senator declared that the people should not punish McGovern by voting against him. He argued that it would seriously injure the progressive movement in this state if they did.

"Blind indeed is the man who in this critical hour would endanger all that it has taken years of struggle and sacrifice to secure for the poor satisfaction for making McGovern suffer," declared the senator dramatically. "Not for a wrongful act which he has committed as governor, but because he failed in the performance of another duty in which his obligation as chief executive of the state of Wisconsin was in no way involved. I appeal to every progressive voter in the state to support McGovern, because his election at this time is vital to the progressive cause in this state."

Lets "T. R." Alone

In his speeches in Dane county today the senator made no reference to the controversy between himself and Theodore Roosevelt, candidate of the third party, and it is presumed that owing to the fact of Roosevelt's wounded condition La Follette will ignore the bull moose issue.

Emphatically For McGovern

Senator La Follette's appeal for McGovern was sincere and powerful.

State Central Committee Announces Itinerary of La Follette Which Is Quite Complete

Senator La Follette will arrive in La Crosse at 5:50 o'clock tomorrow (Tuesday) evening, via the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul, and will be taken in an automobile at once to the Stoddard Hotel, where he will have dinner.

At 7 o'clock there will be an informal reception at the Stoddard, where citizens are invited to meet the senator.

Chairman J. E. Higbee of the county committee, has completed arrangements whereby the "Governor's Pardon" company will surrender its engagement at the La Crosse Theater, giving way to Senator La Follette, who will thus be enabled to open the state campaign in that ample auditorium.

A party of La Crosse citizens, including Chairman Higbee, Lieut. Gov. Tom Morris, Senator Otto Bosshard and Assemblyman J. E. McConnell, will take train to Tomah in the morning and return to this city with the senator after his speech there.

J. E. Higbee will preside at the meeting and Hon. J. E. McConnell will introduce the senator.

A Madison dispatch tells of La Follette's auto tour of Dane county today, which will end with an address at Stoughton tonight. He is in the best of health, and is prepared to make an average of ten speeches a day if opportunity presents. The Dane county work is purely personal, but the state central committee takes charge of him upon his arrival here Tuesday.

After his speech at Sparta Tuesday noon Senator La Follette will go to Tomah, where he will speak in the afternoon at 2 o'clock. What will really be his opening speech of the campaign, will be delivered at La Crosse Tuesday night. The senator will leave La Crosse Tuesday night for Milwaukee, arriving early Wednesday morning. He will take an early train for Berlin where he will speak at noon. He will speak at Ripon at 2 o'clock Wednesday afternoon and wind up with a speech at Fond du Lac Wednesday night.

His itinerary from there will be as follows: Ashland for an afternoon meeting Thursday, and Superior for a night meeting. On Friday Senator La Follette will speak at Hudson in the forenoon and at Chippewa Falls in the afternoon, completing the day with a speech at Eau Claire Friday night. The senator's schedule for Saturday has not been decided except for Beloit, where he will speak Saturday night. The day program has not been arranged. With this itinerary Senator La Follette will cover the greater part of the state.

He forgave nothing that had occurred at Chicago, but declared that was a matter not related to the present campaign. Referring to the resentment of progressives over the Chicago incident, Senator La Follette said:

"Now, my friends, I was somewhat interested in that affair. I know more of what happened at Chicago and the circumstances that lead up to and followed it than do the people of Wisconsin in general. I suffered as much as anyone could as the results of McGovern's course and have the deepest cause for resentment because of it. But we are in the midst of a great struggle involving representative government in this state. For twenty years we have labored to make the government of Wisconsin the most progressive in the world. He achieved great results, step by step we have advanced until the work accomplished in Wisconsin is an inspiration in every county where people are profoundly studying the complex

COLONEL LEAVES FOR OYSTER BAY

Train Starts from Chicago at 8:25 for Candidate's Home in the East

SHOWS EFFECT OF HIS WOUND

Few Steps He Is Forced to Take Between Ambulance and Car Tire Him

FORT WAYNE, Ind., Oct. 21.—Just before reaching here the physicians in attendance on Colonel Roosevelt gave out the following bulletin: "Colonel Roosevelt is resting well and is very comfortable. Pulse, temperature and respiration normal. ALEXANDER LAMBERT, SCURRY L. TERRILL."

"The colonel is bearing up well," said Lambert. "This morning there was some oozing from the wound, but this is not at all unusual, it is simply drainage and will help along the healing process. The colonel is always hungry. His stomach is in that condition in which he wants to eat and will eat almost anything. Altogether he is in excellent condition."

CHICAGO, Oct. 21.—Col. Roosevelt, after six days of convalescence from a bullet wound inflicted on him one week ago tonight in Milwaukee, left this city on a Pennsylvania train at 8:25 a. m. today. The colonel was exhausted when he reached the private car which was attached to the train and he requested that he be allowed to rest for a few minutes, saying that when he felt less tired he wanted to read the latest newspapers.

He had walked several steps in leaving the hospital and in going from the ambulance to the car and aside from the fatigue he insisted that he was feeling "bully."

Waves to Crowd Assistant Police Chief Schuetzler gave the colonel a lift as he climbed upon his car and taking his hat off, Roosevelt waved it to the crowd that was assembled at the small freight station and shouted: "Good bye and good luck."

After he had taken a drink of water, the colonel lay down in his compartment and settled himself for a rest. Mrs. Roosevelt, who has been by his bedside constantly at Mercy hospital, pulled a chair close to his berth and prepared to sit as near her husband as possible.

Directly ahead of the colonel's private car was a Pullman reserved for the newspaper correspondents and other members of the party accompanying the colonel. In the private car were Mrs. Roosevelt, Miss Ethel Roosevelt, Theodore Roosevelt, Jr., S. L. Terrell, Dr. Alexander Lamb, and the colonel's secretaries, J. W. McGrath and E. E. Martin.

An hour earlier than his accustomed time, Colonel Roosevelt awoke today and expressed his pleasure that he was leaving Mercy hospital this morning. During the preparations for his departure he appeared in unusually good spirits.

Condition Normal At six o'clock the colonel's temperature was 98, pulse 76, and his respiration 18, all normal. Nurse Margaret Fitzgerald, said her patient had passed a comfortable night. The colonel went to sleep at 10:30 last night, and slept soundly, awakening but once before 5:40 a. m. today. He ordered his usual breakfast and ate it heartily.

Twenty uniformed policemen and ten men in citizens clothes were assigned to accompany the Roosevelt party in automobiles to the Union station where the colonel's private car was attached to a regular Pennsylvania train.

Assistant Chief Schuetzler, who was on the job in front of the hospital assigned a squad of ten motorcycle officers to go ahead of the automobile in which Colonel Roosevelt rode. Every precaution was taken against cranks who might cause a repetition of the attempted murder of the colonel at Milwaukee last Monday. Detectives and plain clothes patrolmen were on duty every few feet along the route taken from the hospital to the station.

Crank After Colonel

The police today were still puzzled over the action of a man who said he was Louis E. Molina, a general in the army of Colombia, and the son of a Colombian senator, who last night demanded a private interview with Col. Roosevelt at Mercy hospital. The man did not get to see the ex-president, because the policemen and detectives on duty at the hospital would not allow him to get beyond the first floor.

The police say the man wanted to talk over with Roosevelt some plan for the restitution of the nation of Colombia because of the colonel's alleged action in taking Panama without paying his nation. People there were starving, he said, because the United States had taken the isthmus without giving Colombia a cash consideration, and he wanted some action taken by Roosevelt in case he became president again.

GARFIELD WILL VISIT LA CROSSE

Former Secretary of State to Speak at Bull Moose Meeting

The week's campaign in La Crosse county will open tonight with three republican rallies, one at Leide's hall on the Mormon Coulee road, one at the Centennial hall, Sixth and Hood streets, and the other at Kieselbach's hall, 1703 George street. The democrats will get underway tomorrow night with meetings at the Ten Mile House, in the town of Greenfield, and at the Bohemian hall.

County Chairman J. E. Higbee and District Attorney James Thompson will discuss the national and state issues at the Leide hall meeting. Mayor John Dengler and Assemblyman J. E. McConnell will speak at the Centennial hall, and Lieut. Governor Thomas Morris and Wm. McGaughren will make the addresses at the North side meeting.

The speakers at the democratic rallies will be J. L. Utermoehl, Joseph Boschert and C. L. Hood. Garfield to Speak Here The bull moose party will hold a meeting at Linker's hall Wednesday evening, at which James A. Garfield of Ohio, member of the president's cabinet during the Roosevelt administration, will be the principal speaker. The fact that former Secretary of State Garfield was one of La Follette's supporters before the switch to Roosevelt, promises that his speech in La Follette's own state will be more than ordinarily interesting.

The democrats will send a number of speakers into Trempealeau county tomorrow for a week's campaign for R. W. Davis, of Bangor, candidate for the assembly. Among those who will make speeches in the several towns and villages of Trempealeau county are: John Doherty, R. W. Davis, O. R. Skaar and W. F. Wolfe.

Esch on Speaking Trip.

Congressman John J. Esch returned yesterday from a week's speaking campaign in Clark and Juneau counties. He spoke in Owen, Greenwood, Granton and closed at New Lisbon Saturday night. The congressman left again today to speak in several towns in Jackson and Sauk counties. He will be gone the entire week.

JOHNSON'S JOB ENDANGERED?

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Oct. 21.—Eastern reports that Gov. Johnson's place as governor is in danger because of his continued absence from California are denied. Gov. Webb today gave it as his opinion that a recent act of the legislature which governs the governor's tenure of office, permits the executive to exercise his own judgment as to the length of time he may stay out of the state continuously.

TURKS SET BACK BY THE ALLIANCE

Ottoman Troops Apparently No Match Anywhere for the Balkan Soldiery

INTERNATIONAL WAR IS NEAR

Lloyd's Charges 15 Per Cent Insurance Against Russia and Austria Being Involved

SOFIA, Oct. 21.—In the face of the Bulgarians continued advance along an extended front the Turks are rapidly succumbing to complete panic, according to a semi-official statement made public here this afternoon.

In their disordered flight they were abandoning rifles, howitzers, ammunition and provisions, it was said. The Bulgarians, the statement added, were caring for the Turkish children deserted by the fleeing villagers.

LONDON, Oct. 21.—Lloyd's charged 15 per cent today for insurance against the Balkan war involving Austria or Russia within the next six months. For the other powers the rate was eight per cent.

President of the Council Kiamil Pasha's appeal from Constantinople to England, published in today's London Chronicle, to prevent outside interference in the Balkans by Russia, he evidently meant—and his warning that the present war threatens to be a "prelude to a gigantic conflict involving Europe" was largely responsible for the jump in the insurance rate.

Turkey seems to have suffered severe reverses Sunday, if today's dispatches from the Balkans are accepted as true.

Turks Deteriorated?

That the allies, whose territories are relatively small and therefore suited to rapid mobilization, should have had some successes at first was not considered surprising. It was almost hourly expected, however, that news would be received of a check upon their advance. No such news has arrived and today the authorities were wondering if the Turks have so deteriorated that they will make no more formidable showing in their campaign with the Balkan allies than in their war with Italy.

International peace will be more gravely endangered if the allies win over Turkey than if Turkey defeats the allies. Victory by the allies will mean a partition of the Ottoman empire with endless possibilities of trouble among the powers engaged in carving it up.

Over 1,000 Killed Though no really serious battle has yet been fought at all, probably the number of killed on both sides runs well over the 1,000 mark, and the wounded, it is said, have been still more enormous.

News is expected soon of an engagement between the Turkish and Greek fleets. Greek war vessels were understood to be operating in the Aegean sea and Turkish ships were said to be on the way to meet them.

The outcome of the naval fight will have much to do in deciding the war. Should Turkey's sea strength be destroyed it may be taken almost as a foregone conclusion that the sultan will lose. On paper his fleet is the stronger, but its quality as opposed to the Greek, experts commented, is yet to be tested.

Bulgars at Adrianople

VIENNA, Oct. 21.—The capture by Bulgarian advance guards of two of the outer forts defending Adrianople was reported today in messages from Sofia. They were not taken, the dispatches say, without a desperate fight in which both sides lost heavily.

If it is true that the Adrianople fortifications are beginning to fall before the Bulgarian attack the situation looks serious for the Turks. The city is of immense strategic importance in the defense of Constantinople and its loss would be a crushing blow to the sultan.

From the fact that 70 war correspondents were allowed to leave Sofia today for the front, it was conjectured that the Bulgarian army is now fully assembled and in position to meet the enemy.

Servians Annihilated

BUDAPEST, Oct. 12.—A Servian regiment was today reported practically annihilated by Turkish irregulars in the Sanjak of Novibazar.

Greeks Cross Border

ATHENS, Oct. 21.—Two Greek regiments have crossed into Turkish territory near Arifi, according to messages received from the front today, occupying the heights of Grimbova without opposition from the Turks. King George and the premier were preparing today to leave for the front.

Turks Win Engagement

LONDON, Oct. 21.—The Turks have surrounded a Montenegrin force crossing the river Boyano, killed 300 and recaptured several positions, according to a Constantinople dispatch to the Evening Standard today. Just when the reported fight occurred was (Continued on Page Six.)

TAFT PLEADS FOR DIGNITY IN FIGHT

Declares American People Demand Courteous Conduct by Office-seekers

PERSONALITIES OF NO AVAIL

President Holds Calling Names Lowers Tone of Campaign and Does No Good

(Copyright, 1912, by the United Press.)

BEVERLY, Mass., Oct. 21.—That he is opposed to the use or personalities in a campaign was the emphatic statement of President Taft in an exclusive interview granted the United Press today. In view of the interest aroused throughout the country by the charges made by certain public men that personalities were responsible for the shooting of Colonel Roosevelt, the president, was asked his views. He made it very plain that he believes personalities absolutely out of place; that they do not change a single vote, but that they serve to becloud the real issues.

The president endorsed the modern methods of getting the issues before the public through extensive advertising but admitted they were most expensive. He made it plain, too, that the questioning of the motives of big contributors has made the raising of funds for the present day fights something of a problem.

Plea for Dignity

In conclusion the president made a plea for dignity in office seeking, declaring there was no question the people of the United States were as jealous of the dignity of their higher officials today as they ever were in the country's history.

"Mr. President," he was asked, "how do you personally believe presidential campaigns should be conducted?"

"Presidential campaigns should be conducted," he answered, "in such a way as to bring out the vote of as many citizens as possible. The great danger to republican government, as I see it, is the lack of interest that is manifest in politics and in the exercise of suffrage by a very large number of our citizens."

"I regret to say that I believe statistics would show that those who neglect this very important duty are generally intelligent, well to do and capable of exercising the sort of discrimination in their vote that would make for good government. Everything, therefore, should be done to bring out this vote in a presidential campaign. I presume that rallies, processions—torchlight or otherwise—and other manifestations of party zeal which attract public attention are absolutely necessary to arouse the attention and the interest of the voter. The press, of course, is the chief instrument for keeping before the people the issues of the campaign, and the necessity for political activity and the final act of suffrage, but other methods of advertising are coming into vogue—the use of the billboard and electric signs and the advertising panels of the street cars is a logical outcome of the study of science of advertising and publicity that so many industrial concerns have had occasion to make."

Difficulty is Expense

"The great difficulty in such campaigns is the expense. A campaign conducted in 48 states necessarily involves the expenditure of vast amounts of money. The traveling expenses of speakers are to be paid, the advertising, whether by mail, through newspapers, billboards or otherwise, is certain to amount to large figures, while the renting of halls, the transportation of speakers, the constitution of platforms, and the uniforming and equipping of clubs all involve the expenditure of money."

"At times it seems more or less easy to raise considerable sums by popular subscription, but in times past the subscriptions have been made by comparatively few persons of large financial means and engaged in enterprises which might have relations to the government to be affected favorably or unfavorably by governmental action. This has given rise, when the contributions became known, to questions of motives, many of them unfounded, that are likely to make the collection of funds of this kind exceedingly difficult."

"The question is not one easily solved. In Oregon and some other states, it has been attempted to pay the expenses of the campaigns of all parties by furnishing a public record of the arguments made in favor of each candidate, and its circulation among the people at public expense, but I should think this a very unsatisfactory way of arguing out a question of some intricacy, and that it might limit the knowledge of people in respect to the controversies upon which they are expected to vote."

"What do you think, Mr. President, is the effect of personalities in the campaign?"

"I very much doubt," continued the president, "whether personalities have anything like the effect in a campaign that those who use them think they do."

PETERSON PLEADS GUILTY--IS GIVEN A LIFE SENTENCE

Murderer of Mrs. Ella Yttre on Day After Wedding Attempts No Defense

PETERSON'S HEALTH FAILING

Appearance Is Greatly Changed Since Release from Hospital; Is Sullen Prisoner

WEEPS WHEN SENTENCED

Will Be Taken to Waupun Soon; Refuses to Talk Unless He Is Forced

John B. Peterson, the murderer of Mrs. Ella Yttre, was sentenced to life imprisonment in the state prison at Waupun, Sept. 26 of each year to be spent in solitary confinement, by Judge E. C. Higbee this morning.

John B. Peterson, Retreat, shot and killed Mrs. Sever Yttre of Viroqua, eighteen hours after her wedding, while she was waiting a train to her new home at De Soto. He then shot himself twice through the head in an attempt to commit suicide. The shooting occurred during fair week at the Burlington station. Mrs. Yttre was formerly Miss Ella Thompson and had rejected the suit of Peterson.

While a drizzling rain beat a steady tattoo upon the windows and an overclouded sky cast shadows throughout the court room, Peterson was led before the judge, head down and shoulders drooping forward, his hands heavily manacled.

Looking neither to the right or left, with his eyes watching the floor, and a guard on either side, the man, who had deprived Sever Yttre of his bride, was half lead and half carried to the bar.

There, standing weakly against the desk, John Peterson, but a shadow of his former self, pleaded guilty in answer to the charge read by District Attorney James Thompson.

Scene Pathetic

Betraying no fear of the punishment he knew would be meted out to him and displaying only the deepest sorrow for the act that ended the life of the woman he loved, Peterson faced the judge as he asked him if he realized the consequences of his crime and in a voice scarcely above a whisper answered in the affirmative. Without raising his head Peterson continued to answer the questions of the court.

Judge Higbee then asked the prisoner why he had killed the girl to which he answered, "I do not know. My mind was wandering."

The questions of the court and Peterson's answers follow:

Q. Where were you born?

A. At Retreat.

Q. What was the nature of your employment?

A. I worked on a farm for my brother part of the time and also did carpenter work.

Q. Have you ever been ill?

A. I had the measles last year and an operation for catarrh, ten years ago.

Q. When did you buy the revolver with which you shot Mrs. Yttre?

A. Two years ago.

Q. Why did you buy it?

A. I saw it in a window and thought I would like to have it.

BADGERS HAVE CHAMPIONSHIP HOPES; CAPTAIN HOFFFEL ONE OF THE STARS

Captain Joseph Hofffel.

The University of Wisconsin's great victory over Northwestern last week has filled Badger football fans with western championship hopes. Northwestern was trounced, 56 to 0. It is said, however, that the game emphasized the Purple eleven's weakness rather than Wisconsin strength.

One of the most reliable men on the Wisconsin team is Captain Joseph Hofffel. He is now a senior and has played at left end since his freshman year. Hofffel is a deadly tackler and fast in getting down the field. Last year he was placed on every All-Western team that was chosen.

M'MANIGAL NOT DUE ON STAND

Prosecution Will Not Call Informer Until All Preliminaries Are Finished

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Oct. 21.—It was thought today that McManigal, confessed dynamiter and informer, would not get to testify against his one time fellow ironworkers and unfold again his sordid story of death and destruction, before another week.

District Attorney Miller said that he would get out of the way every bit of preliminary evidence before calling McManigal and the other important witnesses. This means that the government will read to the jury the five hundred odd letters, statements, documents and other exhibits that it has taken three weeks of testimony to identify.

Miss Mary Dey again was the witness when the trial was resumed today. She continued to testify to the expenditures of John J. McNamara. She identified many checks issued by McNamara, of which there was no account in the monthly statements, her evidence apparently bearing out the government's contention that McNamara had a fund for which he was not required to account, which he used for the dynamiting expenses of McManigal and James B. McNamara.

START MOVE HERE FOR STATE ROAD

Malcolm McKinnon of the Lake-to-River Road Association Arrives in La Crosse

WILL MARK ALL HIGHWAYS

Red Cross on White Field Will Be Placed on All Through Lines in Country

The arrival of Malcolm McKinnon, Milwaukee, secretary of the Lake-to-River association, today marks the first step to be taken by this city in the crusade for the establishment of a first class trans-state highway from Milwaukee to La Crosse.

With "push" as the motto, the association has inaugurated a campaign which is rapidly assuming enormous proportions and by which they hope to accomplish much for the betterment of Wisconsin highways. The purpose of the organization is to create sentiment for better roads and to bring its influence to bear in promoting the concentration of the road improvement to a trans-state highway.

Have 400 Members
The organization which was formed at a mass meeting held at Dodgeville September 9 now consists of 400 members, most of whom reside east of Madison. It is the ultimate plan of the association to increase this number to 3,000. Mr. McKinnon, who arrived here this morning after completing a tour of the proposed state highway, proposes to procure a large membership in La Crosse. He will make his headquarters at the Stoddard hotel while in La Crosse, following which he will make a canvass of the smaller cities through which the road passes and of the farmers owning property abutting the road.

The proposed trans-state highway passes through the following cities west of Madison: Sauk City, Prairie du Sac, Baraboo, Abelian, Reedsburg, La Velle, Waukesha, Union Center, Elroy, Kendall, Ontario, Cashon, Portland, St. Joseph's ridge and La Crosse. At Montfort Junction another road leading to Prairie du Chien will receive the attention of the association and agitation for its improvement will be carried on fully as strong as that which is being displayed for the improvement of the lake-to-river road.

To Blaze the Trail
Every fifth telephone post along the route of the trans-state highway will be designed by a field of white, fourteen inches long and seven inches wide, which will have two red bars running diagonally from the opposite corners. The sign of the Lake-to-River association has already been placed on telephones from Hartland to Waterloo, a distance of fifty miles and from Madison to Fennimore, a distance of seventy miles.

According to Mr. McKinnon the association will undertake none of the road improvement as a body but will merely bring its influence to bear in bringing about appropriations for improvements where they are most needed.

Members of the association as individuals will be urged to raise public subscriptions in their respective towns. Under the new state aid law all public subscriptions must be met with an equal sum by the town, the county and the state, thus four times the amount raised by popular subscription will be available for the improvement of the road.

The association hopes to ultimately have the Lake-to-River association insignia conspicuous on all through roads in the United States.

Want Gopher Co-operation
An effort will be made by the association to gain the co-operation of Minnesota good road advocates in the government of the La Crosse-Minneapolis road and has offered to place their insignia on the road leading from here to Minneapolis providing the Minnesota men will stand the expense.

The officers of the association are: Guide J. Hansen, president and treasurer; Malcolm McKinnon, secretary. Directors: C. F. Pfister, Milwaukee; Fred Pabst, Oconomowoc; A. M. Barker, Watertown; H. J. Veerhusen, Madison; J. H. Port, Dodgeville; Dr. Cooper, Montfort, and Emil Schandeln, Hartland. One director from La Crosse and another from Baraboo will be appointed.

FAVILLE HEAD OF PASTORS' UNION

Rev. Henry Faville, of the Congregational church, was elected president of the Pastors' union at their first meeting of the fall season, held at the Y. M. C. A., this morning. The meeting was well attended and plans were laid for the work to be done during the coming year.

The following officers were elected in addition to Mr. Faville: W. A. Billings, first vice president; J. A. Witter, second vice president; H. B. Leonard, secretary and treasurer. The following were chosen members of the important program committee: T. S. Odams, chairman; J. H. Klaus and W. P. Christy.

PROBE INTERESTS AS CAMPAIGN AIDS

Clapp Committee to Get at "Big Business" in Politics Through Perkins and Ryan

WASHINGTON, Oct. 21. — "Big Business" in politics was promised a deep probe by the Clapp investigating committee today. George W. Perkins, millionaire, bull moose leader and former partner of J. Pierpont Morgan, and Thomas F. Ryan, multimillionaire financier, were on the witness list today. Several Pennsylvanians also were summoned to supplement campaign disclosures of E. T. Stotesbury, William Flinn and other Keystone politicians.

Senator Oliver served notice he has engagements after Tuesday that will compel him to leave Washington. As he is the only "Taft member" his absence is expected to force adjournment of the investigation.

Chairman Clapp has arranged to leave here Friday for the west, to stump for the progressives. He has not been home since last November.

The other members have campaigning engagements, which preclude continuance of them for a few days.

THE CANDIDATES TODAY.

Republican—President Taft at Beverly.
Democratic—Governor Wilson at Princeton.
Progressive—Col. Roosevelt en route to Oyster Bay.
Socialist—Eugene V. Debs was in Newark, N. J.
Prohibitionist—Eugene W. Chaffin Pittsburg, Pa.

A TREAT FOR LA CROSSE HOUSEKEEPERS

La Crosse housekeepers are delighted with the delicious, nut-like flavor of "Minnesota" Macaroni. Many say they never knew macaroni could taste so good and be so firm and nutritious and flavorful as the "Minnesota" Macaroni, now sold by leading La Crosse grocers.

There is a big difference in macaroni as sold in the stores. "Minnesota" Macaroni is made from the VERY BEST DURUM wheat with ALL the wonderfully nourishing Gluten left in. It is easily digested, very nourishing, and costs only about one cent a dish.

Try the handy "Minnesota" Cut Macaroni, which is cut into uniform pieces—it cooks more evenly and is quicker to prepare—Advertisement.

KILLS TWO AND SELF

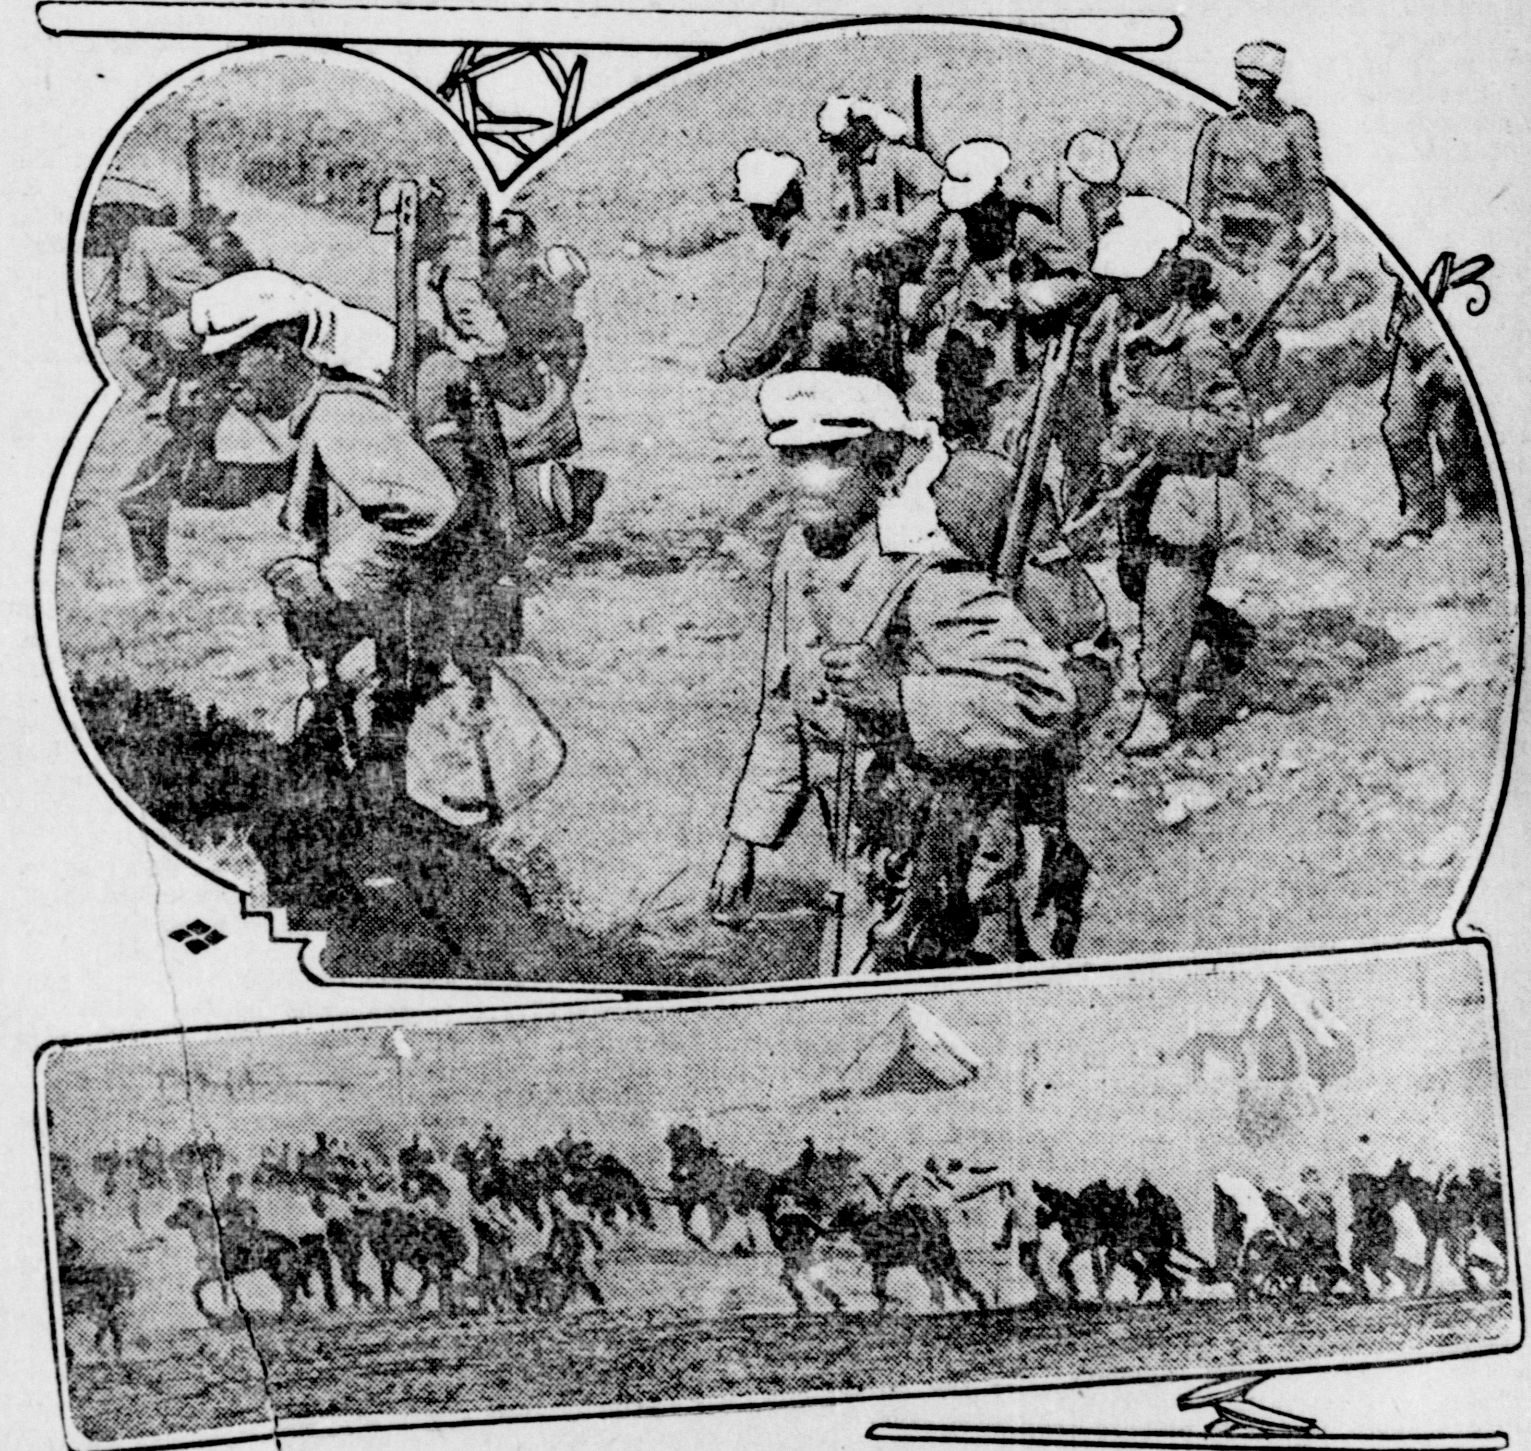

SWEETHEART KILLS RESTAURANT KEEPER AND WIFE WHO REFUSE TO SERVE HIS FIANCEE; SHOOTSELF

EUREKA, Cal., Oct. 21.—Because Charles Baxter would not permit Miss Aileen how to dine in his restaurant near here, Baxter is dying and his wife is dead today of bullet wounds inflicted by George Clark, the girl's sweetheart. After shooting the Baxters, and kissing Miss Shaw good bye, Clark fired a bullet through his own breast. He is dying.

The Baxters refused to serve Miss Shaw Sunday because she has recently been discharged by them as a waitress. Clark, who was with her, ate his dinner alone and returned to the restaurant a few moments later armed with a revolver. He demanded that Baxter apologize for the affront to Miss Shaw, and when Baxter refused, shot him and his wife. Half an hour later, while he was embracing Miss Shaw and saying farewell, he was advised that Mrs. Baxter had died. He immediately shot himself.

When a man is his own worst enemy we are apt to wonder why he doesn't make friends with himself.

GREEKS RUSH TO FRONTIER TO MEET ANCIENT FOE; WHOLE COUNTRY IS ABLAZE WITH WAR SPIRIT AGAINST THE TURK

Now that the war between Turkey and the allies is on in real earnest, all Greece is ablaze with the war spirit. Every able bodied man who can fight is preparing to shoulder arms in the great struggle between Moslem and Christian. In the Grecian armies now being mobilized may be counted many boys and old men. The Greeks are still smarting from their defeat at the hands of Turkey some years ago and are thirsty for revenge.

A PUBLIC NOTICE

FRIDAY evening I published an article from our trade magazine (Keystone Magazine of Optometry) as a "bait." It exposed the fraud of $5.00 glasses for one dollar. This "bait" pinches certain kinds of opticians who will "holler" if pinched. Did you hear any opticians holler? If not, listen and you will.

THE ISSUES THAT CONFRONT VOTERS

Let us keep the issues in our campaign in mind. In national matters they present three alternatives, as follows:

If re-elected, President Taft would prosecute trusts after the manner in which Aldrich, Penrose, Barnes and Murphy which them prosecuted, a method which in every instance has been followed by surer monopoly and greater trust profits and arrogance.

If elected, Theodore Roosevelt would legalize the trusts and subject them to government control by a bureau of corporations, establishing a "benevolent industrial despotism" the "benevolence" of which would last until the trusts got control of the bureau of corporations. He would legalize trusts but his platform does not recognize labor unions.

If elected Woodrow Wilson would abolish trusts. He is for regulated competition instead of for regulated monopoly.

Let it be remembered that what any one of these men could do, if elected, would depend upon congress to some extent, but the above outline shows what each would try to do.

In state matters the issue is simple. It is this:

Governor McGovern stands for a continuation of the Wisconsin policy of giving greater liberty to men and women by a system of laws restricting the attempts of certain classes of big business to give labor and small business people only a scant living, taking for monopoly the cream of the money that labor and independent industry earns and rightfully owns.

Judge Karel stands for the destruction of all commissions—which means the industrial commission, the tax commission, the railroad rate commission—organizations that have served to make corporations pay more nearly their share of government, and have given to labor and competitive business some portion of their rights as citizens.

The progressive republican state ticket stands for men and women, the democratic state ticket for incorporated dollars.

Which?

THE DELIBERATE NORTH HEALTHIER FOR JOHNSON

Having "wood and won," or as the attorneys for the state put it, "abducted" a white girl within two months after the suicide of his former white wife, Jack Johnson, the pugilist, is said to have told the girl's mother when the latter protested to him that he "could get any woman he wanted," and that, "I could get you if I wanted you."

Mr. Johnson is fortunate in the geography of his performances. Had he pulled off this bit of humor in Memphis, Natchez or some other place south of Mason and Dixon's line, the obsequies would have taken the form of a public festival; the story would have appeared in the society column, and the meeting would have closed with a song by the chorus, "Everybody's Doin' It." In fact, it would have been unanimous.

THE CAUSES OF FAILURE

Trying to do business on a small scale is a hazardous thing, according to the report of the table of failures for last year as compiled by the big commercial agencies.

There were 12,646 failures in the United States during 1911, and the causes and percentages are as follows:

Lack of capital, 31.4 per cent; incompetence, 27; specific conditions, 16.9; fraud, 10.6; inexperience, 4.1; competition, 29; neglect, 21.2; unwise credits, 2 per cent; failures of others, 1.3; extravagance and speculation, nine-tenths, and seven-tenths of one per cent, respectively. Over 90 per cent of the failures were in cases where people were trying to do business on a capital of $55,000 or less. In order properly to finance their growing undertaking these people incurred liabilities far in excess of the volume of business they were able to do. In this way they bit off more than they could chew, in homely parlance, and creditors were unwilling to take their chances any further.

The effort to do business beyond one's means has its counterpart in people who are living beyond their means. Every one who is buying more than he can pay for does so with the faint hope of having his salary increased suddenly some day and take care of his indebtedness. He does not take into consideration the fact that salaries do not grow by leaps and bounds, under ordinary circumstances, and that any misfortune will engulf him in ruins.

Business men, and men who must run their homes on a business basis, should beware of the folly of under-capitalization.

JUDGE KAREL WANTS YOU TO PAY THIS

The income tax raised approximately $3,000,000 in public revenue. Just 45,638 people and corporations in the state paid the entire $3,000,000. The remaining 2,300,000 people and corporations in the state did not pay a cent of the $3,000,000, because their incomes were small enough to be exempted from the tax. If you are one of the 2,300,000 who paid no income tax, are you going to vote for the repeal of the law. If you do, next year you will have to help pay that $3,000,000 that the income tax said the rich man, and not you, should pay.

BELL HOP TO MILLIONAIRE

From bell hop to millionaire has been the experience of a New York youth now back from the mining region with a fortune aggregating $500,000 and still growing.

Young Crankshaw was a bell hop at the Waldorf-Astoria ten years ago. After several years at this sort of work, he went back to England, where he was promptly disowned by his family, and again set adrift. This time he fell in with a company of men en route to Canada, and he began selling stock for one of the mines.

From that time his rise was rapid, and now he is registered at the Waldorf in the role of guest instead of menial.

The other day he spent several hours in the lobby, occupying a chair near the bench where, as a bellhop he used to be located. Every time a bell rang he jumped, until he declared he would either have to leave or be back to his old work of carrying some one's valise.

This is, of course not a remarkable story, but it shows what pluck will accomplish. Crankshaw is now only 28 years of age, and has plenty of time to make more money, or lose what he has and have to start again. But, inasmuch as he landed in New York the first time without a cent, and has amassed half a million in so short a time, his story should be passed on to other young men who are bitterly complaining they can't get ahead in life because they have no chance. Crankshaw had apparently no chance, but he made one for himself.

A Colorado woman wouldn't accept alimony from the man she had divorced when he refused to kiss her. And they say that it is possible to understand women.

It is cheaper to charter a special train and go to southern Florida, than it is to buy and pay for a winter's supply of coal.

STRAUS IN CHICAGO.

CHICAGO, Oct. 21.—In a speech at the Garrick theater at noon today, Oscar S. Straus, progressive nominee for governor of New York, said:

"The progressive party will carry the state of New York by an overwhelming majority. Our entire state ticket will be elected by a good margin."

CLEVELAND WOMEN TO VOTE.

CLEVELAND, Oct. 21.—Women are given the right to vote at all municipal elections under Cleveland's proposed new charter, to be adopted under the home rule amendment of the state constitution.

Quips and Cranks and Wanton Wiles

Keep Scratching
This is Mrs. Forbes-Robertson Hale's latest suffrage story: "A negro woman was arguing and arguing with her husband, and when she had finished he said, 'Dinah, yo' talk don't affect me mo' than a flea bite.'"

"Well, niggah," she answered. "Ise gawna keep yo scratchin'!"—Womans Home Companion.

For Once It Came True
Fortune Teller—You are going to have money left you.
Customer—Glad to hear it. I've only got $2 to my name.
Fortune Teller—Well, after paying me you will have $1 left you.

Slight Confusion
"This speedometer registers a more rapid pace than it should," said the motorist who tried to be law abiding.

"Our mistake," replied the dealer, apologetically "some careless person has sold you one of the instruments manufactured especially for country constables."—Washington Star.

The Red Ear
"You never speculate in corn?" said the Chicago man.

"No," replied Mr. Cumrox. "I got the idea that my luck didn't run that way. Finding a red ear at a husking bee was how I come to get engaged."

Not an Outing
"What is the matter?" demanded the grand duke.

"Excellency, your cook demands a vacation."

"Give her a knouting," was the autocratic command.

Too Many Spades
Casey—Do you ever play cards, O'Brien?

O'Brien (a gardener)—Faith, no. I get me full av handling spades in the daytime.—Boston Transcript.

Point of View
Apropos of the dictum of a certain actress that New York men are too thless, an actor said:

"It's all in the point of view, you know. This actress in question is going to marry a westerner. Now, if she were going to marry a New Yorker—"

"Yes, it's all in the point of view. A girl said to a bachelor:

"Woman is indeed like the ivy on yonder vine. The more dilapidated you become the closer woman clings to you."

"Yes," the bachelor sneered, "and the closer she clings to you the more dilapidated you become."—Washington Star.

The Very Idea
"Why did you jilt Perly?"

"He is lacking in tact."

"Why, I thought he always said nice things."

"He does—but not always the right things. He was protesting his love yesterday when we passed an old woman. I saw my cue and said:

"Will you love me when I get old and look like that woman?"

"Of course I will, darling," he cried.

"So I dismissed him. The idea of his consenting to think that I could ever get to look like that horrid old thing!"

Women are so particular.

Not So Easy
Lucy—O, you can win Marie's heart easily enough. All you need to do is to give her all the money she wants.

Fred—And do you call that easy?

The Same Cue
"You're in love with a blonde," remarked the fortune teller, "but after you marry her, beware of a brunette who —"

"No danger," remarked the patron; "it is the same woman."

And Then Some
She—Was he furious, dear, when you told him that we had been secretly married?

He—Not really furious; only sultry.

JOHNSON LYNCHED IN EFFIGY TODAY

Chicago Crowd Hangs a Dummy Labeled After Black Champion to Tree

FEELING BITTER AGAINST HIM

Police Anticipate Further Trouble Following Demonstration Against the Negro

CHICAGO, Oct. 21.—A dummy with a blackened face, hanging by the neck to the limb of a tree caused a police riot call to Montrose Boulevard and Clark street early today. Across the breast of the dummy was a placard which said: "This is what we will do for Jack Johnson."

Men in the crowd of fully 1,000 persons were shouting wildly: "Bring on Jack Johnson!"

The police dispersed the crowd, but did not cut down the dummy. It was still hanging there today, where everyone bound down town to work could see it from the street cars.

When the police made the run to the scene of what they thought was serious trouble, they fully expected to find a lynching in progress.

"They are hanging a man here," was the report that came over the telephone from a dozen excited residents of that section of the city.

Feeling against Jack Johnson, negro pugilist, is very bitter in Chicago. The police today anticipated further trouble following a demonstration against the negro Saturday and several effigy hangings in the last few days.

Johnson is facing five charges of violating the law by keeping his cafe de Champion open after one o'clock, the legal closing hour, and a charge of abduction in keeping a pretty white girl, Lucile Cameron, Minneapolis, in rooms over his saloon, before and after his white wife committed suicide a few weeks ago.

The federal government is also investigating him under the Mann white slave law.

Another attempt was made by Johnson to secure the release of Lucile Cameron. He told Federal District Attorney Wilkerson over the telephone that he was preparing to furnish a $25,000 cash bond for the girl, who is being held in the Rockford, Ill., jail as a material witness in the government's case against Jeanette Dorr who is accused of violating the Mann white slave act in bringing the girl here from Minneapolis.

"You are under suspicion in this case," Wilkerson told the negro fighter, "and I will not approve a bond furnished by you."

Wilkerson said he expected the next move would be to get a surety company to offer bond for the girl, and he added significantly: "But the bond will have to be approved by my office."

Federal officers who have been seeking Jeanette Dorr were expecting her arrest in Denver this afternoon.

BREWMASTERS IN MADISON MEETING

Forty Attend Successful Convention of Upper Mississippi Valley Association at State Capital

Forty brewmasters from the central northwest attended the meeting of the Upper Mississippi Valley Brewmasters' association at Madison Saturday. The following brewmasters attended from La Crosse: Ed Bartl, Otto Mueller, Louis Silberschmidt, George Neukomm, Jacob Erickson and Ernst Chitel. President Ernst Hussa of the local brewmasters, of the Hussa Brewing company, Bangor, also went to Madison with the La Crosse party.

The brewmasters listened to an address by Prof. Norgaard of the state college of agriculture on "Pedigreed Barley." Prof. Norgaard took up the subject of careful selection of barley seed in detail, and showed how the culture of barley from first class seed resulted in big benefit to both the brewer and the farmer. His address will be printed at length in The Tribune shortly.

The meeting was held in the agronomy building of the college of agriculture. It was attended by a large delegation from Chicago, although the Windy City is outside the territory embraced by the Upper Mississippi Valley Brewmasters' association. Among the Chicago delegates were the president and ex-president of the Chicago brewmasters' organization; the financial secretary of the United States Brewmasters' association; two scientists from the Wahl-Henius Institute; Dr. Fisher of Hantke's Brewers' academy; Prof. Siebel of the Zymo-Technical Institute; and President Fred Bock, of the Milwaukee Brewmasters' association.

After the lecture at the agronomy building, the meeting closed with a big banquet at the Hofbrau, where many important questions were discussed by the "diners." The local brewmasters who attended unite in giving all the credit for the excellent arrangements of the occasion to Henry Faerberbach, of the Faerberbach brewery at Madison.

Some of the local brewmasters remained in Madison over Sunday in order to take part in German Day exercises there, where Prof. Kuehnemann spoke.

TEDDY IS GRATEFUL TO DOCTORS AND NURSES WHO CARED FOR HIM AT CHICAGO

At the top, Drs. Alexander Lambert and Woods Hutchinson; bottom, Miss Margaret Fitzgerald and Miss Blanche A. Welter.

CHICAGO.—When Sister Mary Raphael, superintendent of Mercy hospital, called on Colonel Roosevelt, she learned from the colonel's own lips how pleased he is with the treatment he has received at the hands of physicians and attendants at the hospital.

"I want for nothing, sister," said the colonel. "Every wish is fully anticipated." Then he thanked the sister and her associates for their kindness to himself and the members of his party.

The two nurses who were assigned to the colonel's case, Miss M. G. Fitzgerald and Miss A. B. Welter, watched over him with tireless vigilance. They felt the responsibility of having so distinguished a patient, and it is safe to say that nothing they could do to add to the colonel's comfort was left undone.

Dr. Alexander Lambert, Roosevelt's family physician, was another tireless watcher at the colonel's bedside, especially during the first few days following his arrival at the hospital. He hurried from New York as soon as the news of the attempted assassination reached him.

Dr. Woods Hutchinson, the eminent physician and writer, also hurried to the colonel's bedside from the east. He and the colonel are friends of long standing.

STOP RACE BETTING

DIRECTOR OF PORTER TRACK IS TOLD MILITIA WILL TAKE CHARGE IF GAMBLING CONTINUES

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Oct. 21.—Urging a peaceful settlement of the difficulties at Porter over the state gambling laws at the Mineral Springs race track, John A. Gavit, a member of the directorate of the corporation backing the meet, democratic county chairman of Lake county and brother of State Senator Gavit held a secret conference with the secretary of the governor this morning, Attorney General Honan and James E. McCullough.

Gavit was given to understand by the state officials that if the gambling is not stopped today, Company F, Third infantry at South Bend will march on the track either tonight or early tomorrow and take possession. It also became known here today that Sheriff Wood of Porter county arrested Jim O'Leary of Chicago, who with Mont Tennes, has the gambling privileges at the track, late Saturday along with four others, two of them newspapermen. They were charged with betting and handbook making, and were slated to appear in the Valparaiso court today.

Old Egyptian Wall Painting.

Probably the earliest wall paintings are the ancient Egyptian. They employed a distemper containing dissolved gum, and their principal pigments were white chalk, a vegetable yellow, ochres, Ethiopian cinnabar, blue powdered glass stained with copper and charcoal black. Their drawing was technically skilful, and, as is the case with the modern decorator, their coloring was purely decorative and their designs fanciful and extravagant.

OFFICIALS LOOTED COUNTY

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Oct. 21.—That county officials and contractors in five years looted Darke county, Ohio, out of $335,480.59, is asserted on the formal reports submitted today to State Auditor Fullington, by State Examiner J. A. Bliss and Engineer L. B. Harvey. The five year period considered began August, 1907.

PETERSON PLEADS GUILTY; IS GIVEN A LIFE SENTENCE

Q. When did you put the cartridges in the revolver that you used to kill Mrs. Yttre?

A. The day before I shot her. Just before I left my home at Retreat.

Q. Did you intend to shoot her when you took the revolver from your home?

A. No. I always carried it doaded when I was away from home.

Q. Did you ever threaten to kill her?

A. No.

Q. Do you know the consequences for murder?

A. Yes. I know I will be sent to prison.

At this point Judge Higbee turned to Attorney Thompson and asked if he had any evidence tending to show that Peterson had ever suffered from any form of insanity to which he replied in the negative.

Gives Sentence

In a solemn voice that resounded through the spacious court room, Judge Higbee then read the order of the court, that John B. Peterson be confined in the state prison at Waupun during the remainder of his natural life, the 26th day of September of each year to be spent in solitary confinement.

Without so much as a tremor Peterson stood, face averted, listening to the words that sounded the death knell of all his worldly aspirations.

As he turned from the bar, leaning upon the arm of Sheriff Chris Burns, tears were seen to spring into his eyes and when finally protected from the view of the public, in the sheriff's office, Peterson burst into tears, again and again moaning his repentance of his crime.

A few moments later he was hurried through the rain to his cell in the county jail where he will be closely watched until he is removed to Waupun tomorrow, by Undersheriff L. Omerberg.

Peterson Much Changed

Since the shooting of Mrs. Yttre, of Viroqua, Peterson has gradually been sinking. He suffered little physical effects from the self-inflicted wounds, but despite this, gradually lost in weight and each day became more dejected. Since he was removed from the St. Francis hospital to the county jail, he has changed rapidly, his cheeks have sunken and he has barely sufficient strength to stand.

Peterson maintains a sullen silence, refusing to converse with the other prisoners and speaking to the authorities only when absolutely forced to do so.

When he believes himself to be alone, he is continually moaning and crying but upon the approach of another, immediately assumes his sullen, immovable attitude. Authorities believe that Peterson's prison life will be a short one.

SEES BIG WILSON VICTORY

CHICAGO, Oct. 21.—W. F. McCombs of New York, chairman of the democratic national committee arrived here on the Twentieth Century limited this morning full of confidence in victory. "Wilson will win easily," he said. "In the midst of overwhelming victory we are now bending our efforts not to win only but to win by a sweeping victory that Wilson deserves. I predict that it will be the greatest victory the democrats ever had."

Millionaire Admits He Gave $123,000 to Roosevelt Campaign in Spring

RYAN GAVE UP $100,000

Tells Clapp Committee He Gave Money to Both Harmon and Underwood Funds

WASHINGTON, Oct. 21.—Two millionaires, George W. Perkins and Thomas F. Ryan, today disclosed to the Clapp committee how they loosened up their purse strings in political campaigns. Perkins said his total contributions to Colonel Roosevelt's cause this spring was only $123,000.

Thomas F. Ryan admitted giving $450,000 to the democrats in 1904, and said that he gave between $70,000 and $80,000 this year to Governor Harmon's war chest, and $35,000 to Representative Underwood's campaign.

Perkins indignantly denied that either the Steel or Harvester trusts were backing Roosevelt. He branded such statements flatly and squarely as "lies made of whole cloth." He demanded that Chairman Hilles of the republican national committee and Senator Penrose of Pennsylvania be called before the committee to produce proof to substantiate such charges.

Ryan's testimony was remarkable in that he said he was against Judge Parker in 1904 and yet gave $150,000 to the campaign, and $300,000 more at its close, paying up every debt of the party "to keep it from disintegration and disgrace."

And now, when Wisconsin is the pride and hope of all who believe in representative government, when her citizenship is schooled and trained with a decade of experience to deal directly if need be, with the problems of government; when we are about to be equipped with the initiative, the referendum and the recall that will make representative government forever secure in Wisconsin; is this the time for me, or for any progressive in Wisconsin, to strike down the progressive movement in order to punish McGovern?"

Here Senator La Follette uttered his powerful appeal to all progressives to support McGovern in every possible way.

Endorses Governor's Work

Senator La Follette enumerated many of the things accomplished by Governor McGovern's administration, notably the corrupt practices act, the workmen's compensation act and the law limiting hours of work for women and children.

Regarding the governor's connection with the income tax, he pointed out that the people of the state had carried a constitutional amendment authorizing the income tax law by a majority of 47,967, and that they had elected McGovern upon a platform pledging the enactment of an income tax law by a majority of 51,113.

WIFE PLEADS FOR BOND'S FREEDOM

Burlington Fireman Free Through Wife's Request; Lived with Another Woman

WILL RETURN TO H. S. FAMILY

Settlement Effected Out of Court; Fourteen Cases Are Nullified Today

The case against Bert A. Bond bound over from the county court for living with a north side woman although having a wife in Aurora, Ill., was nullified in circuit court by Judge E. C. Higbee today on motion of District Attorney James Thompson.

The double life led by Bond, a Burlington fireman, was revealed following a railroad wreck near St. Paul in which Bond suffered a fractured leg. He was removed to the LaCrosse Hospital and was accompanied by Miss Anna Schilling who posed as his wife.

A few days following the accident, Mrs. Bert A. Bond of Aurora, Ill., wrote to Burlington authorities requesting a pass so that she could be at the bedside of her injured husband.

An investigation resulted in the arrest of Bond and Miss Schilling. Miss Schilling served sixty days in the county jail but Bond was bound over to the circuit court.

Intercession on the part of his wife led District Attorney Thompson to reconsider the case and in view of his promise to turn the proceeds of a damage suit against the Burlington railroad company over to his wife and to care for her and his two children in the future, Attorney Thompson asked for the nullification of the case.

Bond was confined to the county jail June 3 where he has been held awaiting trial. Miss Schilling is ill at a local hospital.

Other Cases Nulled

The other cases nulled are as follows:

State vs. Peter Wuentz, larceny from person.

State vs. Claude Cole, non-support.

State vs. Edward Lee, non-support.

State vs. John McDonald, burglary.

State vs. John Clark, non-support.

State vs. George Kallas.

State vs. Walter Ward.

State vs. Gust Hahos, assault.

State vs. C. M. Knudson, peace bond.

The following were dismissed:

State vs. Charles Bard, assault.

State vs. Diedrich Meyer, assault.

State vs. Thomas Pfaff, assault.

An interlocutory decree was granted Flora Coe from F. Coe and Hans Hansen was sentenced to jail until he fulfilled certain court orders pertaining to the support of his wife.

This leaves but eight criminal cases on the October calendar.

TAFT PLEADS FOR DIGNITY IN FIGHT

"Sometimes there is a real revelation as to the character of a candidate so clearly proven to his detriment that he suffers, but ordinarily the use of epithets and the personal attacks upon candidates only anger their friends, gratify their enemies and do not affect those who are indifferent. One way or another, it lowers the tone of the discussion and diverts public attention from the real facts at issue.

"For that reason, the fewer the personalities in a campaign, the more likely the public is to reach the proper conclusion."

"Do the people still look for dignity in high office?"

"They certainly do. I am convinced that the humblest voter among the people would wish the high officers of the government to conduct themselves with dignity and not to descend to bitter personalities or to any conduct which would not ordinarily associate with men in prominent and conspicuous positions. I believe the people are sensitive on this subject, and that we are likely to find them sensitive in quarters least expected.

"I am glad to think it is so, because when the people tolerate a lack of dignity and self respect in their high offices, they are losing their own, they are changing the ideal standards and lowering them, and it is not a good sign for the republic."

HE'S BEST BATTER IN WESTERN LEAGUE

Baker Borton.

Unofficial averages for the Western league season of 1912, which have been compiled by a Sioux City statistician, and which are accurate enough to show the relative batting strength of the various players and teams, show that the league's leading batter for the season was Baker Borton, of St. Joseph, Mo. He has an average of .367. He was led by Weaver of Denver, Isbell of Des Moines and McLarry of Lincoln, but they participated in so few games that their averages are not considered.

INDIANAPOLIS, Oct. 21.—District Attorney Miller today refused to confirm or deny a persistent report that the McNamaras would be brought from their cells in San Quentin prison to testify in the trial of their forty-five assistant ironworkers accused of complicity in the alleged dynamite plot. The correspondence of John J. McNamara, as secretary-treasurer, so far has been the burden of the government's evidence and James B. McNamara will become an active principal in the drama when McManigal tells his story. The McNamaras would be relevant witnesses should Miller decide to risk bringing them to Indianapolis.

25 CENT "DANDERINE" FOR FALLING HAIR AND DANDRUFF—GROWS HAIR

Don't pay 50 cents for worthless hair tonics—Use old, reliable, harmless "Danderine"—Get results.

Thin, brittle, colorless and scraggy hair is mute evidence of a neglected scalp; of dandruff—that awful scourge.

There is nothing so destructive to the hair as dandruff. It robs the hair of its lustre, its strength and its very life; eventually producing a feverishness and itching of the scalp which if not remedied causes the hair roots to shrink, loosen and die—then the hair falls out fast.

A little Danderine tonight—now—anytime—will surely save your hair.

Get a 25 cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any drug store or toilet counter, and after the first application you will say it was the best investment you ever made. Your hair will immediately take on that life, lustre and luxuriance which is so beautiful. It will become wavy and fluffy and have the appearance of abundance; an incomparable gloss and softness, but what will please you most will be after just a few weeks' use, when you will actually see a lot of fine, downy hair—new hair—growing all over the scalp.

A Political Prediction

If there is one political prediction that is a little safer than any other it is that the coming House of Representatives will be democratic by a large majority.

In the first place the present democratic House has given a very good account of itself. The measures which they put through were so eminently fair that a great majority of them were accepted by the insurgent republicans of the Senate and passed that body through their assistance.

The democrats, with the help, as has been said, of the insurgent republicans, passed a bill making a sweeping reduction of the notorious wool tariff (schedule K) of the steel schedule, and of other oppressive tariffs.

They passed a drastic law limiting campaign contributions and providing for publicity, another providing for a parcels post, thus striking a heavy blow at the express monopoly, still another calling for election of United States senators by direct vote of the people.

With the help of a few insurgents they repassed the steel and wool bills over the veto of the president.

The investigations of the Steel trust and of the Money trust, which they instituted were honest and thorough, and by bringing to light many conditions that must be remedied have paved the way for much progressive legislation in the future. Their record has inspired the country with confidence in their ability to complete the work when once we have a president who will sign their measures instead of vetoing them.

The average republican congressman, especially those who are loudly progressive in their talk (for home consumption) and reactionary in their votes at Washington, is hiding in his hole at present. He is a republican still, very, very still. If cornered and forced to say something he will talk about the grand old flag and our glorious country, stretching from the pine-clad hills of Maine to the sun-kissed shores of California.

Ask him whether he is for Taft or Roosevelt, and watch him dodge and straddle.

Poor fellow, he is up against it. About one-third of those who voted for him two years ago are old line republicans, supporting Taft. In most states the remainder are progressives or near progressives and are supporting either Roosevelt or Wilson, according to the degree of their intelligence. In Wisconsin, unless all signs fail, this majority are real progressives and are going to follow the hints to vote for Wilson that Senator La Follette is constantly giving them in his magazine.

In fifty out of the four hundred districts the third term party has nominated men for congress who will split the normal republican vote in half and ensure the election of a democrat. All of these districts are now represented by republicans.

As a result, then, of the disgust felt by the majority of the voters over the straddling attitude of republican congressmen, and the loss of fifty districts caused by the entry of the third terms the next house is sure to be overwhelmingly democratic.

The Senate is as sure to be anti-Taft. There is a strong probability that the democrats will have a majority. But even if this is not the case there are enough republican senators like Works, who is openly supporting Wilson, and La Follette and Gronna, who undoubtedly are hoping for the governor's election, to ensure the passage of nearly all the progressive legislation which the democrats will advocate.

What good would it do to elect Taft or Roosevelt, then, even if it were possible?

If Taft should be re-elected, we should have four more years of turmoil and unrest, with a stand-pat executive vetoing acts of a progressive congress, and a reactionary attorney general refusing to enforce the laws passed over the president's veto in the interest of the people. All of this would do nothing but play into the hands of Mr. Roosevelt and make him political capital for 1916.

If Mr. Roosevelt should be elected what would be the result? We all remember how impossible it was for him, when both branches of congress were controlled by his party, to work in harmony with them. He alienated the real progressives, like La Follette, Dolliver and Gronna, by straddling and compromising with the "interests" on vital legislation. He bullied and browbeat congress and swung the big stick when "my policies" were not carried out to the letter, and Heaven only knows what "my policies" were.

They went through so many lightning change acts that no one could even say definitely what they were. But his talk was so loud and incontinent that the people were left with the impression that he was performing prodigies of reform in their behalf. In short, his last administration was "full of sound and fury, signifying nothing."

Think what it would be now: with a president in favor of legalizing monopoly and a congress bent on restoring competition, a president in favor of a high protective tariff and a congress bound to make sweeping reductions, a president striving to increase his own power and a congress to serve the people.

The only way out is through the election of Woodrow Wilson and a congress thoroughly in sympathy with his work.

MILLION AND A QUARTER ATTEND

More Than 1,250,000 Is Estimated Attendance at High and "Prep" Schools of U. S.

More than a million and a quarter boys and girls will attend the American high schools, public and private, during the school year of 1912-13, according to the estimate of Dr. P. P. Claxton, United States commissioner of education. Dr. Claxton has been assured by Mr. Alexander Summers, statistician of the bureau, who has made a special study of the matter, that the estimate is a conservative one. Of the number given 1,100,000 are estimated for the public high schools, and 150,000 for the private secondary schools.

The American high school has grown phenomenally in the past dozen years, its development in the last two or three years being apparently greater than in the remarkable decade just preceding. Since the twentieth century opened the number of public high schools has almost doubled and the number of students is easily twice what it was at the beginning of the century. The most cheering feature of the whole matter for the American citizen is the very great increase in the proportion of those who go from the grades into the high school. Formerly (only a very few years ago, in fact), the high school was chiefly attended by children of the rich and moderately well-to-do. Today nearly one-fourth of the children who enter the elementary school eventually pass into the high school. The exact figure is 22 per cent, if negro children are included, and 25 per cent if whites only are considered. This is particularly significant, since certain critics of the public high schools have, through a misunderstanding of the official reports, contended that a much smaller percentage than is here given had the opportunity of high school training. The fact remains that from 22 to 25 of every hundred children who enter the schools at all go into the high school.

Almost equally significant for public education is the fact that by far the most rapid growth has been in the public high schools. The private secondary schools show a healthy increase—25 per cent in attendance since 1900; but the public high schools have actually doubled their attendance in the same period. To make the comparison on another basis: In 1890 forty out of every hundred high schools were private, and sixty public; in 1900 the proportion had changed to 23 and 77; and today there are only 16 private secondary schools for every 84 public high schools.

We Are Here to Stay

My friends the opticians are barking up the wrong tree. They simply have tried to "put one over" on the wrong man. But one thing certain, whether it takes one month or one year, I am going to call every bluff put forth.

I am both financially able to swing my proposition over the heads of the "price boosters" and from day to day will enlighten the public on "matters optical." My articles will go as far as showing cost of lenses, cost of frames, profits made, etc. I'll win this fight here just as I did at Decatur. It doesn't matter how long it takes, I'll do it.

I positively will not be bound by any price boosting society, nor will I allow any manufacturer to tell me what price to sell his product for. Once I pay for it, it's mine.

I know of a hundred or more optical societies who compel its members to get FIXED PRICES. I SET MY OWN PRICES.

I know why a certain eastern manufacturing Optical House doesn't like me to CUT PRICES. I ABSOLUTELY REFUSE TO KNUCKLE DOWN TO A FIXED PRICE.

A PERSONAL TALK WITH YOU

I cut prices and I am not ashamed of it. Ask any newspaper in Decatur, Bloomington or Danville, Illinois, whether I make good or not. Ask The Millikin Bank of Decatur as to my standing.

Ask any newspaper of Waco, Texas, or the First National Bank of Waco about my standing. I am behind the Rex Optical Co., and the Rex Optical Co. is in Crosse to stay.

I am president of the Rex Optical Co., Amicable Life Insurance Bldg., Waco, Texas. H. L. Hepler is manager. I am proprietor of The Rex Optical Co. of La Crosse, C. B. Strickland, Mgr. My main office is 214-215 Moran-Corbett Bldg., Decatur, Ill., C. C. Kreigh, Mgr.

I am a graduate of the Northern Illinois College of Ophthalmology and Otolaryngology, Chicago. I have had 12 years' practical experience. C. B. Strickland is a graduate of the same college, with six years' practical experience. The knockers can knock—THERE'S A REASON—need I tell you THE reason? All right, I will FURTHER in my next ad.—Tuesday.

HUNT PHANTOM SHIP

MYSTERIOUS STRANGER LEADS
LIFE SAVING CREW ON WILD
GOOSE CHASE AND DIS-APPEARS

ST. JOSEPH, Mich., Oct. 21.—Captain Stevens and the lifesaving crew returned on Saturday from a scouting trip along the shore of the lake between here and South Haven, wondering who had piloted them on a wild goose chase in search of a phantom ship.

The lifesavers were called on the telephone from Benton Harbor Monday night by a man who said he was the mate of a schooner that was pounding to pieces on the beach north of here.

Captain Stevens ordered the life crew out, and, picking up the strange mate, they went aboard the tug Bonita, and started for the supposed wreck.

Ten miles north of this place the tug was headed in, the mysterious mate directing the boat. In the darkness the lifesavers put off in their surfboat and spent several hours looking for the wreck but found nothing.

Finally the stranger offered to go ashore and locate a landing mark, which he said he could find. He took a lantern, waded ashore and disappeared over the sand dunes, nor has he been seen since by the life crew.

ALASKA ROBBERS MISS BIG HAUL

SKAGWAY, Alaska, Oct. 21.—Nearly $250,000 in gold in the Wells Fargo express office was passed by a robber who sandbagged Agent Herbert Taylor. The robber took a package containing $1,200. When Taylor went into a rear room for a bucket of coal the robber, who had been concealed in a closet, struck him over the head.

SAGE TEA WILL DARKEN THE HAIR

Restore Faded and Gray
Hair to Natural Color—
Dandruff Quickly Removed.

There is nothing new about the idea of using Sage for restoring the color of the hair. Our grandmothers kept their hair dark, glossy and abundant by the use of a simple "Sage Tea." Whenever their hair fell out or took on a dull, faded or streaked appearance, they made a brew of Sage leaves, and applied it to their hair with wonderfully beneficial effect.

Nowadays we don't have to resort to the old-time tiresome method of gathering the herbs and making the tea. This is done by skillful chemists better than we could do it ourselves; and all we have to do is to call for the ready-made product, Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy, containing Sage in the proper strength, with the addition of Sulphur, another old-time scalp remedy.

This preparation gives youthful color and beauty to the hair, and is one of the best remedies you can use for dandruff, dry, feverish, itching scalp, and falling hair. Get a fifty-cent bottle from your druggist today, and you will be surprised at the quick results. All druggists sell it, under guarantee that the money will be refunded if the remedy is not exactly as represented. O. T. Erhart. Advertisement.

Getting His Money's Worth

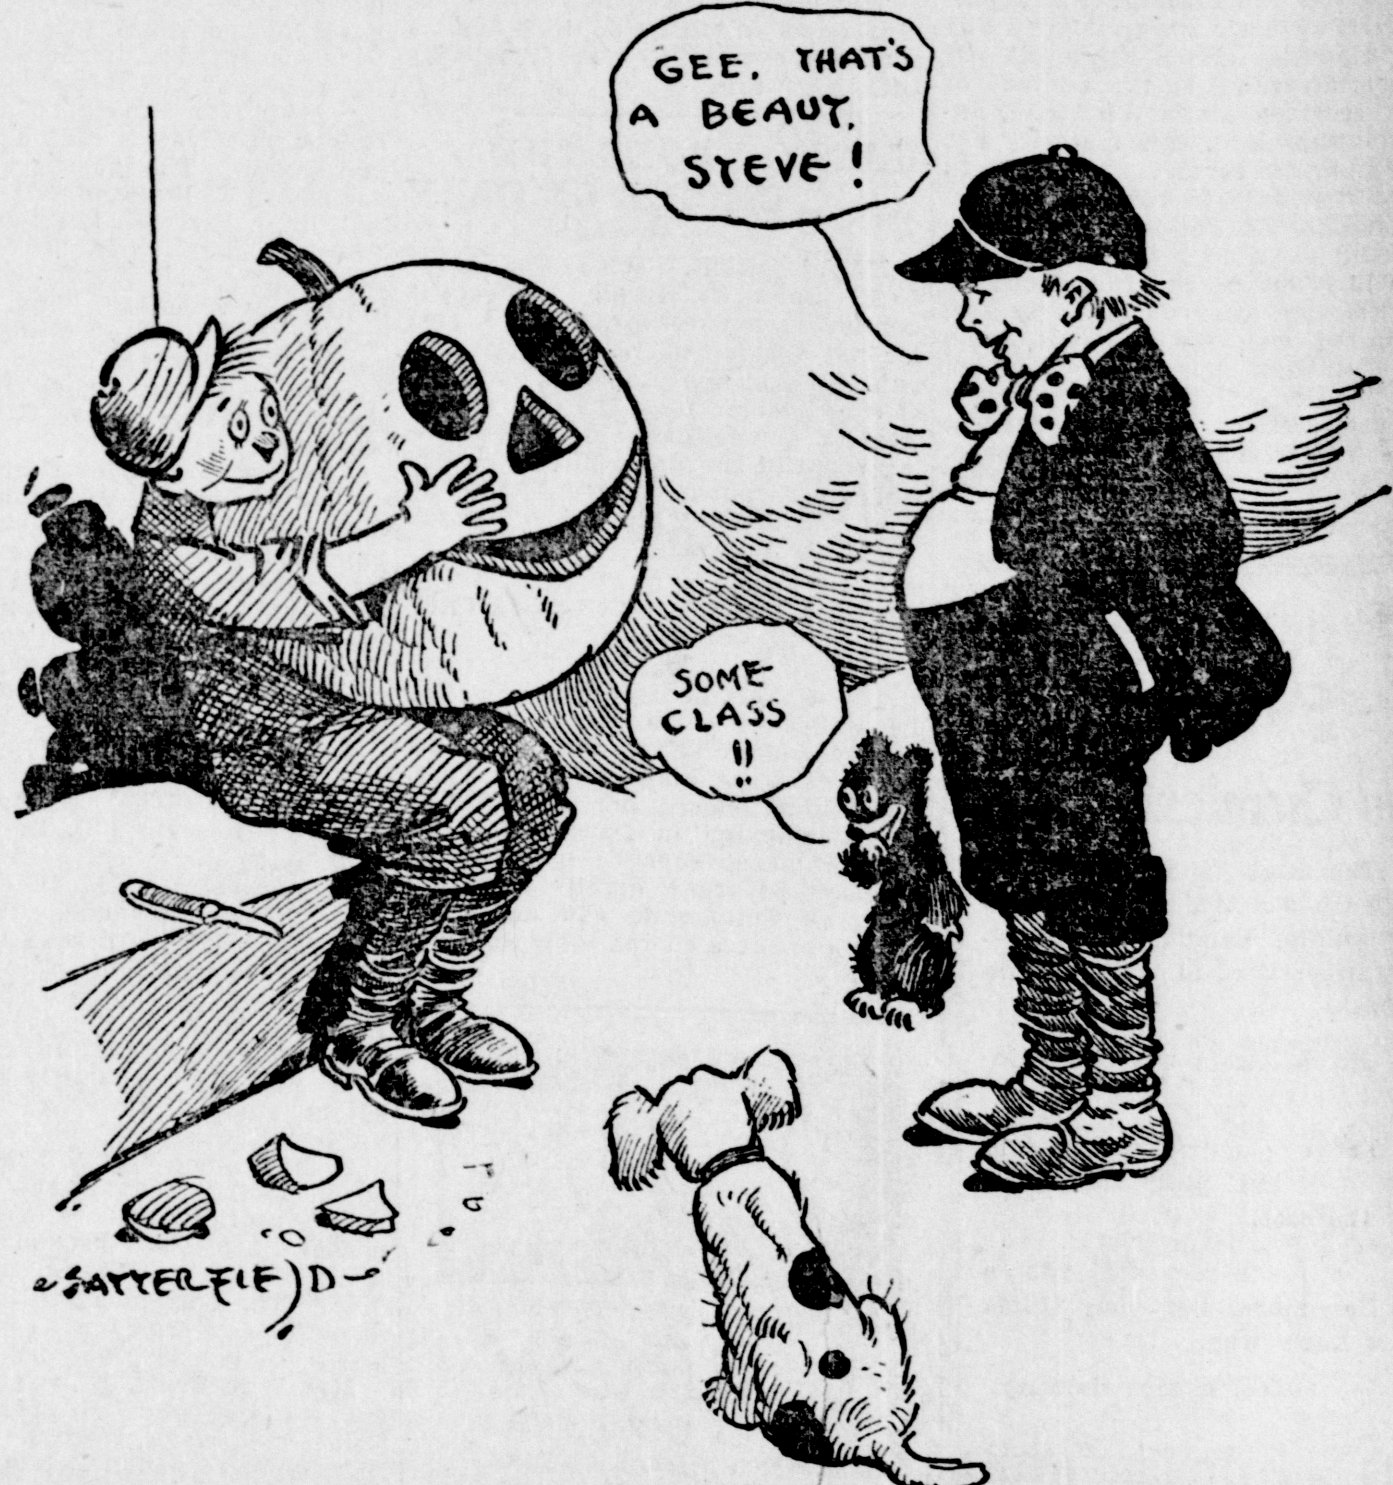

The souse who had wandered into the parlor operated by a medium was rudely awakened from his slumbers. "I have a message from the spirit world," announced the medium. "I paid my money, didn't I?" asked the souse. "You certainly did," replied the medium. "Well," said the souse, "ask 'em what the temperature is down there."

SPARTA LOSES TO MADISON 27 TO 0

Heavy Team from Capital City Has Little Trouble Winning at Sparta

A game of much interest to local football followers was played between the Madison and Sparta high schools at Sparta last Saturday afternoon. The Madison team was victorious by a score of 27 to 0. The game was the most interesting and hard fought ever played at Sparta. Both teams went in determined to win and played football all the time. Madison outweighed the Spartans about five pounds to the man and therefore had the advantage. The Madison team got the jump by scoring a touchdown in the first five minutes of play and they were able to get another soon after. They also scored in the second quarter but were unable to score on the Sparta team in the third quarter and came close to being scored on themselves. The last touchdown came near the close to the last quarter. The Sparta team planned an open game attempting numerous passes and fake plays. The Madison team played straight football most of the time and were forced to punt only three times during the game. Captain Bondie of the Madison team was the star of the game. He carried the ball for long gains from punt formation and made several forward passes that were spectacular. Captain Evans of the Sparta team came close to equalling the performance of Bondie with his open field running and line plunging.

PLAYERS WANT TO STOP ROWDYISM

NEW YORK, Oct. 21.—Rowdyism will be stopped and baseball players removed from the liability of insult if the baseball players' fraternity succeeds in a movement it is starting. Resolutions are being formulated today to be sent to the national commission, asking that umpires be vested with the power to order out of the grounds anyone using rough language to the players. President David L. Fultz, elected yesterday, is directing the movement and expects success.

The fraternity has 228 members among the sixteen major league clubs and expects to have all major league players not now enrolled on the list within a few days. The vice presidents are: Christy Mathewson, Mike Donlin, Ed Sweeney and Ty Cobb. Jake Daubert is secretary. The board of directors includes one man from each big league team.

BADGER CREWS ROW OVER SIXTY MILES

MADISON, Wis., Oct. 21.—Under the tutelage of Coach Harry Vail, crews of the two varsity shells have rowed over 60 miles already this season, a record easily up to the work of last season. Enough men have been reporting for crew work lately to fill nearly three shells. Two shells have been on the lake nearly every day since Oct. 1, when rowing was commenced.

HIGHS BEATEN BY EAU CLAIRE 7 TO 0

Northerners Get Winning Touchdown in First Five Minutes of Play

CHAMPIONSHIP NOT YET LOST

Locals Still Have Chance for Title by Beating Madison and Fort Atkinson

The local high school football team was defeated by the Eau Claire high school football team at Eau Claire last Saturday afternoon by the score of 7 to 0, but as a result they are not out of the running for the state football championship. Saturday's game was the real opening of the La Crosse schedule as far as playing for the state title goes. The Eau Claire team cannot lay claim to the state title on the winning of this game as it is the only game of any importance on their schedule. The other games they play that might have any bearing on the title are with the Tomahawks, Chippewa Falls and Merrill and not one of these teams is of any importance as far as the state title is concerned as they are not considered by the authorities strong enough to have any claims on the title.

On the other hand the locals have yet to meet the two strongest teams in the state, the Madison and the Fort Atkinson highs. These two teams have not yet been defeated this year and they are playing in real championship class. If the locals are able to win both of these games they will be considered by those who are acquainted with the situation as the best team in the state and will be classed as the champions. It is therefore up to the team to get in and work their hardest in order to win the two most important games left to be played in the state this year.

A fumbled punt by La Crosse gave Eau Claire its chance for the only touchdown. Eau Claire recovered the kick and they then had but a short distance to go to cross the goal, their touchdown coming in the first five minutes of play. After that the locals had to fight an uphill game all the way. In the first half of the game most of the play was in the center of the field or in the La Crosse territory; but the locals came back strong in the second half and played the Eau Claire team off their feet, running the ball down to the five, ten and fifteen yard line not less than eight times. Here again the lack of proper judgment on the part of the entire back field and the loss of nerve of the local forwards to handle forward passes gave the ball to the opponents who punted out of danger. Several forward passes were muffed by the local men when they were all alone but they were only natural blunders under the circumstances. On the whole the locals put up a better game all the way through as they played open football a greater share of the time and showed a better knowledge of the new game than their opponents did. Following is the lineup:

La Crosse	Position	Eau Claire

LOCALS SHUT OUT BY CARDS' 2 TO 0

St. Louis Nationals Put Up a Good Exhibition and Whitewash Opponents

BURKE ALLOWS BUT 3 HITS

Koney Shows Fans How He Plays the Initial Sack in Major League

One of the largest crowds that witnessed a baseball game all season saw Ed Konetchy and the St. Louis Cardinals play an exhibition game yesterday afternoon and beat the local club by the count of 2 to 0. The city champions of St. Louis had no trouble in winning the combat and local fans were given a good opportunity to see a major league club in action.

Koney, the big first baseman of the Cardinals who is now regarded as one of the foremost guardians of the initial sack in the country, and who got his start in baseball in this city, played the first corner in great style and he showed the fans that he has a right to be rated among the premier players of the country. Ed got but one hit during the game but he hit the ball every time and he handled six fielding chances easily in addition to taking part in two double plays which the Cards made.

Burke, a big right hander, was on the slab for the Cardinals and his terrific speed and change of pace had the locals guessing all the way as but three swats were made off him and he caused ten of the La Crosse club to take three swings at the air. The locals had two chances to count and they should have scored once but Burke tightened up and handed out a whitewash. Eddie Klein made the longest hit of the day, when he slammed out a triple over Oakes' head in the fourth with one down but the next two batters were easy victims.

Anderson, the Athletes' star twirler, did the pitching for the locals and his slab work was good, the Cards finding him for only eight hits. The first St. Louis run came in the first and was the result of a pass to Hauser, the only base on balls that Anderson issued. The other tally was made by Koney and Evans, who worked the hit and run, with the assistance of a sacrifice fly by Wingo. Anderson fanned six of the visitors.

The Cardinals got the jump by counting in the first round. Tausner walked and he stole second when Wais failed to stop Anderson's pitch. Magee immediately scored him with a single to right but he was thrown out when he tried to stretch the hit into a double. Oakes singled but Ed Koney forced him at second and Evans went out on a grounder.

Koney was responsible for the second St. Louis tally in the sixth which he started with a one base smash to left. On the hit and run Evans sent a single to right, Koney reaching third. When Wingo flied out to Klein Koney registered.

The best chance the locals had to count was in the fourth. With one gone Eddie Klein soaked a hit over Oakes for three bases. However, Billy Wais lifted an easy foul to Magee and Mills fanned. The other chance for a tally was in the sixth when Meinert singled with two gone and stole second. Klein grounded to Hauser, who let the ball go through him to center and it looked as if Meinert could have crossed the pan but nobody coached him at third, so he stopped. Wais grounded out, retiring the side. Larson opened the eighth with the third hit of the day but after Anderson flew to Magee Meinert sent a fly to short center. It looked good for a hit but Hauser made a great catch and doubled Larson off first.

Straight talk to men who smoke jimmy pipes

The last two years has seen a revolution in pipe-smoking. Prince Albert came on deck with a brand new deal. Here was tobacco with wonderful flavor and fragrance, without a touch of rankness. Here was tobacco that burned long but burned free and steady, that held its fire close and never sogged but burned down to dust-fine ashes. Here was tobacco you could smoke all day and it wouldn't bite your tongue.

Prince Albert brought the first notable improvement in pipe tobacco since the days of Walter Raleigh. It has done more in two years to make the pipe popular than all other smoking tobaccos in a generation.

Now, men, we want you to know why Prince Albert is different, why it's in a class of its own. The reason is the Prince Albert process. This is what makes P. A. what it is.

This process was discovered by a well-known German scientist who dearly loved a pipe and experimented with smoking tobaccos as a side line. He knew he had hit upon a big thing in this process. So did we when this company acquired it. Experts were put on the job of perfecting it. The work took three years and cost a bunch of money. But we knew it would make a wonderful smoking tobacco and we had the faith to back it.

The United States Patent on this process was granted July 30, 1907.

Now, men, this is the showdown. If you haven't tried Prince Albert, try it now. Put it to the jimmy pipe test. Let the tobacco smoke for itself. Then you'll understand what this patent Prince Albert process means to you. You'll know why it has revolutionized pipe-smoking and started two men to smoking a pipe where one smoked before.

PRINCE ALBERT

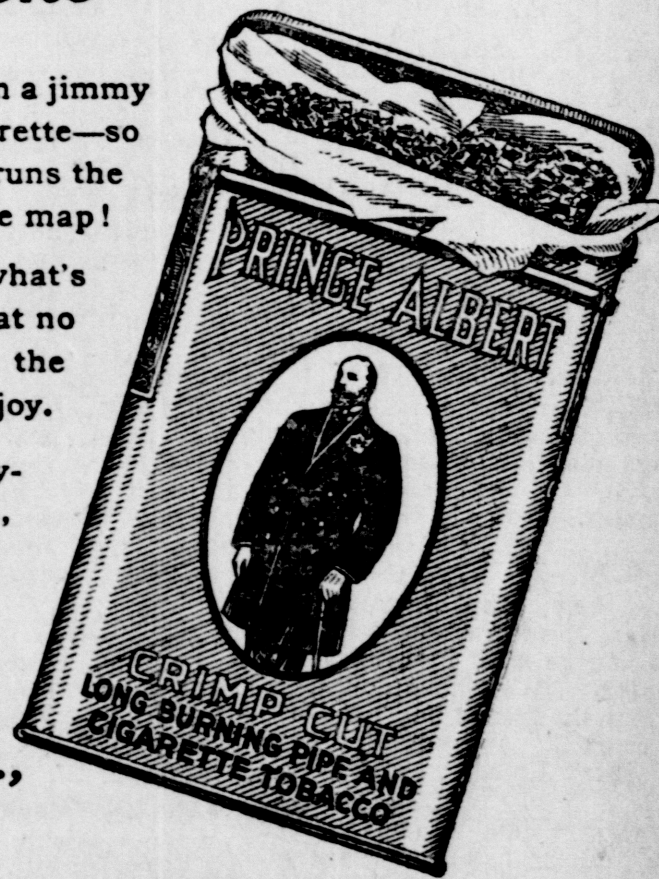

"the national joy smoke"

You'll enjoy it rolled up into a cigarette as well as in a jimmy pipe. We tell you, men, here is the real cigarette—so different in freshness, fragrance and flavor that it runs the dust-brands and the chaff-brands right off the smoke map!

You roll up a cigarette of P. A. tobacco and know what's doing. Why, it sets a pace for your satisfaction that no other tobacco ever can replace. Buy one of the handy packages and take a new lease on cigarette joy.

All on-the-job dealers sell Prince Albert everywhere. Ten cents in the famous tidy red tin, five cents in the toppy red cloth bag; also in handsome half-pound or pound tin humidors and a pound humidors of crystal glass.

EVERS TO MANAGE CUBS NEXT YEAR?

CHICAGO, Oct. 21.—While President Charles W. Murphy of the Cubs, refused to confirm or deny the rumors, it was reported here today that John J. Evers, the Cubs second baseman, had been chosen to lead the West siders in next year's race for the National league championship flag. Belief in the report was strengthened by the fact that Evers has been Chance's "first lieutenant" ever since the Merkle "bonehead" incident in New York two years ago, and has shared with Joe Tinker the field captaincy.

Evers graduated into the Cubs team from an Elroy, N. Y., shoe store.

THINKS BADGERS WILL WIN TITLE

LAFAYETTE, Ind., Oct. 21.—The Purdue team returned yesterday from Madison and the men were none the worse for the grilling given them by the Badgers. Coach Horr said his men would give a good account of themselves against Chicago next Saturday and were not downhearted over defeat by Wisconsin.

The injury of Capt. Hutchinson, O'Brien, Oliphant and Street resulted in a showing up in the team work in the game Saturday. Coach Horr is of the opinion that Wisconsin will have no trouble in winning the big nine conference championship this year.

CARDINALS TO PLAY FOUR MORE GAMES

Since leaving St. Louis, the Cardinals have won four victories, Cedar Rapids having been defeated 8 to 5 while Dubuque was handed two beatings, 6 to 0 and 6 to 4. Their 2 to 0 victory yesterday was the fourth win.

Today the Cardinals play at Galeville and tomorrow they appear at Rochester, Minn. On Wednesday they will give an exhibition at Prairie du Chien and a game at Winona next Sunday will end the trip.
